Author biography

Rudyard Kipling was born in Bombay (Mumbai), India, on 30 December 1865, was sent to England for schooling at five, and returned to India at sixteen as a journalist. His stories and poems of British India made him famous; The Jungle Book (1894), which includes "Rikki-Tikki-Tavi," was written while he lived in Vermont. In 1907 he became the first English-language writer to win the Nobel Prize in Literature. His work is admired for its craft and criticized for its celebration of empire. He died in London on 18 January 1936.

Historical and cultural context

Set in a British bungalow in colonial India (the Raj), with an English family as the mongoose's protected household. Kipling grew up partly in India.

Publication and reception, then and now

First published in The Jungle Book (1894), possibly earlier in magazines.

Then: Popular immediately.

Now: A beloved animal adventure, also discussed critically for its colonial viewpoint.

Overview (spoiler-free)

A young mongoose is rescued by an English family and guards their garden against two cobras, Nag and Nagaina.

Main themes

- courage.
- loyalty and protection.
- good versus evil.

Why it matters

Students learn about conflict and characterization, and can discuss perspective.

Spoilers · teacher only

Rikki kills Nag in the bathroom, destroys the eggs and follows Nagaina into her hole, killing her.

First, meaning. I read "Turn for turn and twist for twist —" slowly and put it in my own words: The tailorbird's song describes the fight with Nag as turn for turn and twist for twist. Next, craft. I notice the repeated paired phrases, which copy the back-and-forth movement of the fight itself. The strongest word is "twist": it captures the snake's coiling and the speed of the struggle. Then, effect. What does this line from the song about the fight suggest? My answer: Kipling makes the battle feel fast and evenly matched; Rikki wins by matching the cobra move for move, which is why the garden sings his praise.

Content note (animal violence, colonial setting, alcohol or drugs (mentioned)): Sensitive content: Animal violence; colonial setting. Preview the story, tell students in advance, and allow a pass on reading aloud. Keep discussion on how the writer uses these elements, not on graphic detail. This section mentions drinking or a drug ("… at night, at dinner, walking to and fro among the wine-glasses on the table, he could have stu…"). Treat it as period custom or plot detail; name it plainly and don't glamorize it.
Student preview: Heads-up: this story includes animal violence; colonial setting.
Suggested language: "Why does the writer include this, and what does it make us notice?"

A young mongoose, washed from his burrow by a flood, is adopted by an English family in a bungalow in India. He befriends Darzee the tailorbird and learns of the cobras Nag and Nagaina. He kills the snake Karait, then Nag in the bathroom, and destroys Nagaina's eggs. Nagaina threatens the boy Teddy; Rikki lures her away, follows her into her hole and kills her.

Background: Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective.

Significance: A widely taught middle-school story for conflict, characterization and personification.

Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective. A widely taught middle-school story for conflict, characterization and personification. Personification: The animals speak, scheme and grieve (Darzee the tailorbird sings victory songs; Nagaina plots revenge), so the garden becomes a battlefield with characters. Conflict: Rikki against the cobras; each battle (Karait, Nag, the eggs, Nagaina) raises the stakes. Characterization: Rikki is curious, brave and loyal; Nagaina is cunning; Darzee is foolish but loyal. Watch for the garden: an Eden with serpents in it, which Rikki defends.

3. How does the conflict in this story shape what we understand about courage in defense of home? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · RL.9-10.3, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.3] Look for: Look for the forces, people or desires pulling against each other.

Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Run and find out” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20): His nature. On conflict: Rikki against the cobras; each battle (Karait, Nag, the eggs, Nagaina) raises the stakes. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.

4. In the passage that begins “THIS is the story of the great war that Rikki-tikki-tavi fought single-handed, through the bath-rooms of the big bungalow in Segowlee cantonment.”, why might Kipling have chosen these particular words? Pick two and explain their connotations. [DOK 2 · followUp · wait 5 s · RL.9-10.4, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.4] Look for: Diction analysis of two words in the anchor passage.
5. What causes the main turn in “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi”, and what effect is it likely to have on what follows? [DOK 2 · followUp · wait 5 s · RL.9-10.3, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.3] Look for: A young mongoose, washed from his burrow by a flood, is adopted by an English family in a bungalow in India. He befriends Darzee the tailorbird and learns of the cobras Nag and Nagaina. He kills the snake Karait, then Nag in the bathroom, and destroys Nagaina's eggs. Nagaina threatens the boy…
6. As the opening story, what does “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi” set up that the rest of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi will need? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · RL.9-10.5, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.5] Look for: A causal or structural link between this and the previous story.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Nag, come up and dance with death” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4): Battle. Theme link: he fights a much larger enemy. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
7. What can we infer about a character's motives from what they say and do here, as opposed to what they claim? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · RL.9-10.3, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.3] Look for: An inference about motive supported by a quoted line.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “That's his way of making friends” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21): The family's acceptance. On characterization: Rikki is curious, brave and loyal; Nagaina is cunning; Darzee is foolish but loyal. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
8. The bell-ringer asked: “What makes someone brave?” Now that we have read closely, how would you revise your first answer, and which line changed your mind? [DOK 2 · thinkPairShare · wait 5 s · RL.9-10.2, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.2] Look for: A revised answer anchored in the text.
9. Where does personification appear, and how does it connect this story to the larger concern with courage? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · RL.9-10.1, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.1] Look for: Look for how this element shapes meaning.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Run and find out” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20): His nature. On personification: The animals speak, scheme and grieve (Darzee the tailorbird sings victory songs; Nagaina plots revenge), so the garden becomes a battlefield with characters. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
10. Background: Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective. How does knowing this change the way you read one moment in the story? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · RL.9-10.3, SL.9-10.1, RL.11-12.3] Look for: A specific moment reread in light of the context.

Writing prompts (eleven rigor levels)

Scaffolded support (250 words; Common Core: RL.9-10.3, W.9-10.1): Supported track (work from the passage your teacher selects). In “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi,” how does Kipling show courage in defense of home? Write a paragraph that states your claim, quotes two details from the passage, and explains how each detail supports your idea. Use the characterization you noticed as one piece of evidence.

HS Freshman (350 words; Common Core: RL.9-10.3, W.9-10.1): In Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, how does Kipling develop the idea of courage in defense of home? State a clear claim, support it with two or three quotations, and explain how the characterization in the story helps build that idea.

HS Sophomore (450 words; Common Core: RL.9-10.3, W.9-10.1): Analyze how Rikki-Tikki-Tavi develops the idea of courage in defense of home. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of characterization and conflict shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.

HS Junior (550 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.5, RL.11-12.1, W.11-12.1): Analyze how the structure of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (where it begins, turns and ends) and its characterization shape the reader's understanding of courage in defense of home. Identify one place where the text leaves matters uncertain and explain how that uncertainty adds to its meaning.

HS Senior (600 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.3, W.11-12.1): Two readers disagree about what Rikki-Tikki-Tavi suggests about courage in defense of home. Lay out two plausible interpretations, weigh the evidence for each (including the story's characterization and conflict), and argue for the stronger one in a sustained, well-organized essay.

AP (650 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.3, W.11-12.1): Write a literary argument in which you analyze how Rudyard Kipling uses characterization in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi to complicate the reader's understanding of courage in defense of home. Develop a defensible thesis, select evidence purposefully, and explain how specific choices of diction and syntax create meaning.

College Freshman (1000 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Situate Rikki-Tikki-Tavi within its historical and literary context and argue how the story's treatment of courage in defense of home responds to that context. Engage with at least one secondary perspective (a critic, historian or the author's own statements), integrate quotations smoothly, and cite in MLA style.

College Sophomore (1250 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Read Rikki-Tikki-Tavi alongside the conventions of its genre and period. Argue how the story's handling of courage in defense of home follows or bends those conventions, using the characterization as evidence, and test your reading against one published critic. Document two secondary sources in MLA.

College Junior (1500 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Apply a named critical approach (for example formalist, historicist, feminist, psychoanalytic or ecocritical) to Rikki-Tikki-Tavi and its treatment of courage in defense of home. State your method, show what it reveals in the story's characterization and conflict, and identify where the text resists it.

College Senior (2000 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Develop a research argument that reads Rikki-Tikki-Tavi as evidence for a larger claim about courage in defense of home in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Connect close reading of the story to the whole story, engage at least four scholarly sources, and state precisely where your reading departs from theirs (Chicago style).

Graduate / PhD (2500 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Develop an original argument that reads Rikki-Tikki-Tavi as a hinge in the story's larger treatment of courage in defense of home. Position your reading within a named critical conversation (for example formalist, historicist, psychoanalytic, feminist or postcolonial approaches), account for the textual history where relevant, and articulate the stakes of your intervention for scholarship on Rikki-Tikki-Tavi.

Final paper

Rikki-Tikki-Tavi: final paper (formal literary analysis). Choose one prompt.

1. Analyze how Rudyard Kipling develops courage across Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Trace the idea through at least three moments (beginning, middle and end) and argue what the ending finally suggests.
2. Choose one recurring symbol, image or motif in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi and argue how its meaning changes over the story and why that change matters to protecting home.
3. Analyze a central character's choices in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Argue whether the story judges that character, and how its structure or point of view shapes your answer.
4. Two readers disagree about whether Rikki-Tikki-Tavi finally endorses or criticizes its society's view of nature and instinct. Weigh both readings and argue for one, answering the strongest objection.

Length: Scaffolded support 500-700 words; HS Freshman 700-900 words; HS Sophomore 900-1,100 words; HS Junior 1,000-1,300 words; HS Senior 1,200-1,500 words; AP 1,300-1,600 words; College Freshman 1,500-2,000 words; College Sophomore 2,000-2,500 words; College Junior 2,500-3,000 words; College Senior 3,000-4,000 words; Graduate / PhD 4,000-6,000 words Evidence requirement: at least 4 quotations from at least two parts of the story. Quote the reading text exactly and cite the paragraph (MLA style). HS Senior and above: one scholarly or historical source; College Sophomore and above: two, cited in MLA.

Criterion	Points	Descriptor
Thesis	20	A specific, arguable claim that answers the prompt and organizes the paper.
Evidence	25	Well-chosen, accurately quoted and cited passages from across the work, meeting the evidence requirement.
Analysis	30	Explains how language, structure and literary elements create meaning; goes beyond summary.
Organization	15	Logical progression, clear topic sentences and transitions; introduction and conclusion frame the argument.
Style and conventions	10	Formal academic voice, present tense for literature, correct grammar and MLA format.

Essay assignments

Essay: Courage

Scaffolded support (600 words; Common Core: W.9-10.1, RL.9-10.2): Supported track: write a five-paragraph essay explaining what Rikki-Tikki-Tavi teaches about courage. Use at least three quotations from passages your teacher selects from different parts of the book.

HS Freshman (800 words; Common Core: W.9-10.1, RL.9-10.2): Write a multi-paragraph essay explaining how Rudyard Kipling develops courage in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Use evidence from the beginning, middle and end of the book.

HS Sophomore (1000 words; Common Core: W.9-10.1, RL.9-10.2): Write an argumentative essay analyzing how Rudyard Kipling develops courage across Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Trace the idea through at least three parts of the story and address a counterclaim.

HS Junior (1100 words; Common Core: W.11-12.1, RL.11-12.5): Write an analytical essay on how the structure of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (its order, turns and ending) shapes the meaning of courage. Discuss at least one place where the book leaves the question open.

HS Senior (1200 words; Common Core: W.11-12.1, RL.11-12.2): Write a sustained argument comparing two interpretations of courage in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Weigh the evidence for each and defend the stronger reading in a mature, well-organized essay.

AP (1300 words; Common Core: W.11-12.1, RL.11-12.2): Write a literary argument: develop a defensible thesis about how Rudyard Kipling's choices in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (a recurring element, structure and narration) shape a complex understanding of courage, weigh at least one competing reading, and sustain commentary on well-chosen evidence. Do not merely summarize.

College Freshman (1600 words; Common Core: see unit standards): Write a researched essay (4–6 pages) that places Rikki-Tikki-Tavi's treatment of courage in its historical context, using at least two scholarly sources.
