Lesson 1: Introduction to The Legend of Sleepy Hollow

Author biography

Washington Irving was born in New York City on 3 April 1783, the youngest of eleven children of a merchant family, and named after George Washington. He won fame with a comic History of New York (1809) by "Diedrich Knickerbocker" and lived in England from 1815, where he published The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent. (1819–20), containing "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." He was among the first American writers admired in Europe; he later served as U.S. minister to Spain and died at Sunnyside, his home in Tarrytown, New York, on 28 November 1859.

Historical and cultural context

Set around 1790 in a Dutch settlement near Tarrytown, New York, a region full of Revolutionary War ghost stories. The Headless Horseman is said to be a Hessian soldier (a German mercenary fighting for Britain) whose head was shot off by a cannonball.

Publication and reception, then and now

Published in The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent. (part VI, 1820).

Then: Popular from the start.

Now: One of the first American ghost stories; a Halloween classic, often adapted.

Overview (spoiler-free)

Ichabod Crane, a lanky, superstitious schoolmaster from Connecticut, courts the wealthy Katrina Van Tassel, competing with the local hero Brom Bones.

Main themes

- imagination and superstition.
- greed.
- outsiders and locals.

Why it matters

It's a model of humour, suspense and ambiguous endings.

Spoilers · teacher only

Riding home from a party, Ichabod is chased by the Headless Horseman, who hurls his head; Ichabod disappears, a smashed pumpkin is found, and Brom marries Katrina, looking knowing whenever the pumpkin is mentioned.

In the Dutch hamlet of Sleepy Hollow, lanky, superstitious schoolmaster Ichabod Crane courts the heiress Katrina Van Tassel, partly for her father's rich farm. His rival is the strong prankster Brom Bones. After a party where ghost stories are told, Ichabod rides home and is chased by a Headless Horseman who hurls his head at him. Ichabod disappears; a shattered pumpkin is found. Brom marries Katrina and looks knowing when the tale is told.

Background: Published in 1820 in The Sketch Book, set in the Hudson Valley around 1790 near Tarrytown, New York.

Significance: A foundational American ghost story built on comic irony.

Independent annotation and a claim-evidence-reasoning paragraph (exemplar given).

Annotate the story for satire, imagery (three marks with a margin note each), then write one claim-evidence-reasoning paragraph: what does this story suggest about superstition used against a credulous man? Then start your writing prompt at your assigned level (HS Sophomore: Analyze how The Legend of Sleepy Hollow develops the idea of superstition used against a credulous man. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of setting and characterization shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.) Exemplar: Irving suggests the Horseman is a prank by Brom. When the text says "he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31), it shows this directly. Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins… turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned.

Writing prompts (eleven rigor levels)

Middle School (250 words; Common Core: RL.7.3, W.7.1): Excerpt-based (Middle School support track; this story is above the grades 6–8 complexity band, so work from the passage your teacher selects). In "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," how does Irving show superstition used against a credulous man? Write a paragraph that states your claim, quotes two details from the passage, and explains how each detail supports your idea. Use the setting you noticed as one piece of evidence.

HS Freshman (350 words; Common Core: RL.9-10.3, W.9-10.1): In The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, how does Irving develop the idea of superstition used against a credulous man? State a clear claim, support it with two or three quotations, and explain how the setting in the story helps build that idea.

HS Sophomore (450 words; Common Core: RL.9-10.3, W.9-10.1): Analyze how The Legend of Sleepy Hollow develops the idea of superstition used against a credulous man. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of setting and characterization shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.

HS Junior (550 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.5, RL.11-12.1, W.11-12.1): Analyze how the structure of The Legend of Sleepy Hollow (where it begins, turns and ends) and its setting shape the reader's understanding of superstition used against a credulous man. Identify one place where the text leaves matters uncertain and explain how that uncertainty adds to its meaning.

HS Senior (600 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.3, W.11-12.1): Two readers disagree about what The Legend of Sleepy Hollow suggests about superstition used against a credulous man. Lay out two plausible interpretations, weigh the evidence for each (including the story's setting and characterization), and argue for the stronger one in a sustained, well-organized essay.

AP (650 words; Common Core: RL.11-12.3, W.11-12.1): Write a literary argument in which you analyze how Washington Irving uses setting in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow to complicate the reader's understanding of superstition used against a credulous man. Develop a defensible thesis, select evidence purposefully, and explain how specific choices of diction and syntax create meaning.

College Freshman (1000 words; Common Core: ICC-WC-1.3, ICC-WC-1.5, ICC-WC-1.1): Situate The Legend of Sleepy Hollow within its historical and literary context and argue how the story's treatment of superstition used against a credulous man responds to that context. Engage with at least one secondary perspective (a critic, historian or the author's own statements), integrate quotations smoothly, and cite in MLA style.

College Sophomore (1250 words; Common Core: LeL-C2-LIT-1, LeL-C2-W-1): Read The Legend of Sleepy Hollow alongside the conventions of its genre and period. Argue how the story's handling of superstition used against a credulous man follows or bends those conventions, using the setting as evidence, and test your reading against one published critic. Document two secondary sources in MLA.

College Junior (1500 words; Common Core: LeL-C3-LIT-1, LeL-C3-W-1): Apply a named critical approach (for example formalist, historicist, feminist, psychoanalytic or ecocritical) to The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and its treatment of superstition used against a credulous man. State your method, show what it reveals in the story's setting and characterization, and identify where the text resists it.

College Senior (2000 words; Common Core: LeL-C4-LIT-1, LeL-C4-W-1): Develop a research argument that reads The Legend of Sleepy Hollow as evidence for a larger claim about superstition used against a credulous man in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. Connect close reading of the story to the whole story, engage at least four scholarly sources, and state precisely where your reading departs from theirs (Chicago style).

Graduate / PhD (2500 words; Common Core: LeL-GR-LIT-1, LeL-GR-W-1): Develop an original argument that reads The Legend of Sleepy Hollow as a hinge in the story's larger treatment of superstition used against a credulous man. Position your reading within a named critical conversation (for example formalist, historicist, psychoanalytic, feminist or postcolonial approaches), account for the textual history where relevant, and articulate the stakes of your intervention for scholarship on The Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

SAT-style questions

1. "Ergo, for a country schoolmaster to be refused the hand of a Dutch heiress, is a certain step to high preferment in the state."

   As used in the text, what does the word “preferment” most nearly mean?

   A. abandon hope; give up hope; lose heart

   B. winning favor in a sly, flattering way

   C. promotion to a better position, especially in the church

   D. chestnut trees

2. It is remarkable that the visionary propensity I have mentioned, is not confined to the native inhabitants of the valley, but is unconsciously imbibed by every one who resides there for a time. However wide awake they may have been before they entered that sleepy region, they are sure, in a little time, to inhale the witching influence of the air, and begin to grow imaginative—to dream dreams, and see apparitions.

   Which choice best states a central concern of “The Legend of Sleepy Hollow”?

   A. The futile attempt to shut out death

   B. Superstition used against a credulous man

   C. Enemies reconciled too late

   D. The loss of faith in human goodness

SAT key: 1. C (promotion to a better position, especially in the church); 2. B (Superstition used against a credulous man)
