Essential questions

- What does After Twenty Years suggest about loyalty and duty?
- What does After Twenty Years suggest about change over time?
- What does After Twenty Years suggest about friendship?

Objectives

- Students will cite at least 2 quotations, with locations, to support each written claim about what the text says explicitly and implicitly (scored on the writing-prompt rubric).
- Students will trace one theme across at least 3 sections of the story in the final paper, earning at least 70 of 100 rubric points.
- Students will explain how characters, setting and point of view interact in at least 3 exit tickets, each meeting the claim-evidence-reasoning criteria.
- Students will determine the in-context meaning of taught vocabulary, scoring at least 80% on the vocabulary items of the story quizzes.
- Students will write an argument with a clear claim, reasons and relevant evidence, scoring at least 80% on the unit test's short-answer scoring guides.

Lesson 1: Introduction to After Twenty Years

Objective: Students will explain, in a 3-sentence exit ticket, how one fact about O. Henry's life or times connects to loyalty and duty in “After Twenty Years”, and will set up a reading journal with a prediction and a question for each of 3 themes (loyalty and duty, change over time, friendship).

Author biography

O. Henry was the pen name of William Sydney Porter, born on 11 September 1862 in Greensboro, North Carolina. He trained as a pharmacist, moved to Texas, and worked as a draftsman, bank teller and humorous journalist. Convicted of embezzling from the Austin bank where he had worked (he maintained his innocence), he served about three years in the Ohio Penitentiary (1898–1901), where he began publishing stories as O. Henry. In New York he wrote a story a week for the New York World and produced hundreds of tales of ordinary city people, famous for their warmth, wordplay and twist endings. He died in New York on 5 June 1910.

Historical and cultural context

New York around 1900 had a new professional police force walking regular beats, and the West was still a place where young men went to make fortunes, honestly or not.

Publication and reception, then and now

First published in the New York Sunday World in 1906; collected in The Four Million (1906).

Then: Popular as one of O. Henry's neat "twist" stories.

Now: A standard middle-school text for foreshadowing, characterization and the surprise ending.

Overview (spoiler-free)

On a dark, rainy night a policeman walking his beat meets a man waiting in a doorway. The man explains he is keeping an appointment made twenty years ago with his best friend, Jimmy Wells.

Main themes

- loyalty and duty.
- change over time.
- friendship.

Why it matters

It raises a real ethical dilemma: what do we owe a friend who has done wrong?

Spoilers · teacher only

The policeman was Jimmy; recognizing the man as a wanted criminal, "Silky" Bob, he could not arrest his friend himself and sent a plainclothes officer with a note.

First, meaning. I read "Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man's nose from a Roman to a pug" slowly and put it in my own words: Bob, the man from the West, tells the tall stranger that twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man's nose from a Roman to a pug. Next, craft. I notice the joke about a physical detail that solves the mystery. The strongest word is "Roman": it names a nose shape that marks identity, which Bob notices only under the bright lights. Then, effect. What does Bob's remark about noses reveal? My answer: Bob's line exposes that the tall man is not Jimmy Wells but a plainclothes officer; O. Henry's twist hides the sad truth that Jimmy, the patrolman Bob met earlier, could not arrest his old friend himself and sent someone else.

> Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man's nose from a Roman to a pug (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30)

A man waits in a New York doorway to meet his old friend Jimmy Wells, twenty years to the day after they parted. He tells a patrolling policeman about the plan. A man claiming to be Jimmy arrives, but he is a plainclothes officer who arrests the waiting man, 'Silky' Bob, wanted in Chicago. A note reveals that the patrolman was Jimmy, who recognized Bob as the wanted man and could not arrest him himself.

Background: Published in 1906 and collected in The Four Million, which names the ordinary New Yorkers O. Henry wrote about.

Significance: A compact surprise ending that rewards rereading for planted clues.

Next, craft. I notice the joke about noses, which makes the reveal light and clever even as the trap closes. The strongest word is "pug": it is a short, funny word, and it is the evidence. Then, effect. How does this line reveal the truth about the man who arrives? My answer: Bob's own line reveals that the tall man who arrived is not Jimmy Wells, because the noses don't match; the stranger is a plainclothes officer who arrests Bob, and O. Henry hides a sad betrayal inside a joke.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Useful evidence: “Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man’s nose from a Roman to a pug” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30): The reveal. On foreshadowing: The cop's careful questions and Bob's diamond scarfpin hint at the twist. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.

4. In the passage that begins “THE policeman on the beat moved up the avenue impressively.”, why might Henry have chosen these particular words? Pick two and explain their connotations. [DOK 2 · followUp · wait 5 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: Diction analysis of two words in the anchor passage.
5. What causes the main turn in “After Twenty Years”, and what effect is it likely to have on what follows? [DOK 2 · followUp · wait 5 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: A man waits in a New York doorway to meet his old friend Jimmy Wells, twenty years to the day after they parted. He tells a patrolling policeman about the plan. A man claiming to be Jimmy arrives, but he is a plainclothes officer who arrests the waiting man, 'Silky' Bob, wanted in Chicago. A note…
6. As the opening story, what does “After Twenty Years” set up that the rest of After Twenty Years will need? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: A causal or structural link between this and the previous story.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Useful evidence: “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31): The theme of change. Theme link: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
7. What can we infer about a character's motives from what they say and do here, as opposed to what they claim? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: An inference about motive supported by a quoted line.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Useful evidence: “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33): Jimmy's note. On characterization: Bob is boastful and flashy; Jimmy is quiet and dutiful. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
8. The bell-ringer asked: “Would you turn in a friend who had done something seriously wrong? Why or why not?” Now that we have read closely, how would you revise your first answer, and which line changed your mind? [DOK 2 · thinkPairShare · wait 5 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: A revised answer anchored in the text.
9. Where does characterization appear, and how does it connect this story to the larger concern with loyalty and duty? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: Look for what characters say, do and think, and how others react to them.

   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Useful evidence: “Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man’s nose from a Roman to a pug” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30): The reveal. On characterization: Bob is boastful and flashy; Jimmy is quiet and dutiful. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
10. Background: Published in 1906 and collected in The Four Million, which names the ordinary New Yorkers O. Henry wrote about. How does knowing this change the way you read one moment in the story? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · CAIE-9695.AO2] Look for: A specific moment reread in light of the context.

    Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Useful evidence: “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31): The theme of change. Theme link: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.

Evaluative / synthesis / creative

1. A critic might argue: "A compact surprise ending that rewards rereading for planted clues." How far do you agree? Take a stand and defend it with two lines from the story. [DOK 3 · fourCorners · wait 8 s · CAIE-9695.AO3, CAIE-9695.AO5] Look for: A defended position with evidence and one counterpoint.

10. [fill · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Fill in the blank with the vocabulary word that fits: “THE policeman on the beat moved up the avenue _____.” Word bank: egotism, impressively, vicinity, corresponded
    Key: impressively
11. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] What can you infer from this line? “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31) Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.
    Sample answer: The theme of change. The words “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself.
12. [mc · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] Which of these passages comes earliest in the story?
    A. “As the policeman walked up to him the man spoke up quickly.”
    B. “Sounds a little funny to you, doesn’t it?”
    C. “When about midway of a certain block the policeman suddenly slowed his walk.”
    D. “In the doorway of a darkened hardware store a man leaned, with an unlighted cigar in his mouth.”
    Key: C (“When about midway of a certain block the policeman suddenly slowed his walk.”)
13. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] What does this passage from paragraph 13 reveal about the character or situation? “A man gets in a groove in New York.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 13) accurately and quotes “groove”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It then states the inference in one sentence and backs it with that detail.
14. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 24 shapes its tone: ““Oh, I grew a bit after I was twenty.”” Pick two words and explain their effect.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 24) accurately and quotes “twenty”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.
15. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 16 shapes its tone: “If Jimmy is alive on earth he’ll be here by that time.” Pick two words and explain their effect.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 16) accurately and quotes its key words, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.
16. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.1] Synthesis: trace how loyalty and duty develops from the opening of “After Twenty Years” to its ending. Use one quotation from each part.
    Sample answer: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law. The words “After Twenty Years” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops loyalty and duty: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law. His note says "I was at the appointed place on time," so he kept his promise, but he sent another officer because he was bound by duty and could not bear to arrest Bob himself.
17. [fill · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Fill in the blank with the vocabulary word that fits: ““Is that you, Bob?” he asked, _____.” Word bank: vicinity, egotism, doubtfully, corresponded
    Key: doubtfully

18. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · RL.9-10.1] Where is the waiting man from now?

    A. The West, Chicago

    B. Boston

    C. New Orleans

    D. London

    Key: A (The West, Chicago)

19. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · RL.9-10.1] Why did Jimmy send someone else to make the arrest?

    A. He was ordered to

    B. He was afraid

    C. He could not bring himself to arrest his old friend

    D. He was off duty

    Key: C (He could not bring himself to arrest his old friend)

20. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 4 shapes its tone: “About that long ago there used to be a restaurant where this store stands—Big Joe’ Brady’s restaurant.”” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 4) accurately and quotes “restaurant” and “stands”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

21. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze the word choice in “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33). Pick two words and explain what they suggest.

    Sample answer: Jimmy's note. The words “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops loyalty and duty: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

22. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] What can you infer from this line? “Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man’s nose from a Roman to a pug” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30) Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The reveal. The words “Twenty years is a long time, but not long enough to change a man’s nose from a Roman to a pug” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 30) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself.

23. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.1] Connect this passage from paragraph 7 to the story's treatment of change over time: “The next morning I was to start for the West to make my fortune.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 7) accurately and quotes “fortune” and “morning”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to change over time and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

24. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.1] Connect this passage from paragraph 32 to the story's treatment of change over time: “The man from the West unfolded the little piece cf paper handed him.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 32) accurately and quotes “unfolded” and “little”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to change over time and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

25. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.9-10.1] Claim: Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty. Explain how this evidence supports the claim: “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33).

    Sample answer: His note says "I was at the appointed place on time," so he kept his promise, but he sent another officer because he was bound by duty and could not bear to arrest Bob himself. The words “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops loyalty and duty: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

26. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.1] Connect this passage from paragraph 8 to the story's treatment of change over time: ““Rather a long time between meets, though, it seems to me.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 8) accurately and quotes “between” and “Rather”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to change over time and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of change over time: Jimmy keeps both the appointment and the law.

27. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] What does this passage most clearly show? “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31) Answer in two or three sentences, quoting one word or phrase.

    Sample answer: The theme of change. The words “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself.

28. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · RL.9-10.1] What clue shows the waiting man's wealth?

    A. A fur coat

    B. A diamond scarfpin and watch

    C. A bag of gold

    D. A new car

    Key: B (A diamond scarfpin and watch)

29. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.1] Evaluate this claim about the story: “Jimmy proves his loyalty to both his friend and his duty.” Is it fully persuasive? Argue with evidence, including a passage that complicates it.

    Sample answer: The claim is persuasive only in part. In support, “Bob: I was at the appointed place on time” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 33) bears it out: His note says "I was at the appointed place on time," so he kept his promise, but he sent another officer because he was bound by duty and could not bear to arrest Bob himself. But “It sometimes changes a good man into a bad one” (After Twenty Years, paragraph 31) complicates it, because this detail (the theme of change) gives the reader a second explanation to weigh against the claim's reading. So the claim holds only once it is qualified: it explains much of the story, but it has to account for that passage too, which it does not do on its own.

30. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] In the line ““Well, yes, for a time we corresponded,” said the other.”, what does “corresponded” most nearly mean?

    A. too much concern with oneself

    B. a surrounding or nearby region

    C. exchanged letters

    D. in a gloomy, depressing way

    Key: C (exchanged letters)

31. [mc · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.1] Which choice best states a central concern of “After Twenty Years”?

    A. Friendship tested by duty

Writing prompts (eleven rigor levels)

Scaffolded support (250 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Supported track (work from the passage your teacher selects). In “After Twenty Years,” how does Henry show friendship tested by duty? Write a paragraph that states your claim, quotes two details from the passage, and explains how each detail supports your idea. Use the irony you noticed as one piece of evidence.

HS Freshman (350 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): In After Twenty Years, how does Henry develop the idea of friendship tested by duty? State a clear claim, support it with two or three quotations, and explain how the irony in the story helps build that idea.

HS Sophomore (450 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Analyze how After Twenty Years develops the idea of friendship tested by duty. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of irony and foreshadowing shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.

HS Junior (550 words; Cambridge International: CAIE-9695.AO2, CAIE-9695.AO3): Analyze how the structure of After Twenty Years (where it begins, turns and ends) and its irony shape the reader's understanding of friendship tested by duty. Identify one place where the text leaves matters uncertain and explain how that uncertainty adds to its meaning. Distinguish what is directly stated from what is really meant.

HS Senior (600 words; Cambridge International: CAIE-9695.AO3, CAIE-9695.AO5): Two readers disagree about what After Twenty Years suggests about friendship tested by duty. Lay out two plausible interpretations, weigh the evidence for each (including the story's irony and foreshadowing), and argue for the stronger one in a sustained, well-organized essay. Distinguish what is directly stated from what is really meant.

AP (650 words; Cambridge International: CAIE-9695.AO2, CAIE-9695.AO4): Write a literary argument in which you analyze how O. Henry uses irony in After Twenty Years to complicate the reader's understanding of friendship tested by duty. Develop a defensible thesis, select evidence purposefully, and explain how specific choices of diction and syntax create meaning.

College Freshman (1000 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Situate After Twenty Years within its historical and literary context and argue how the story's treatment of friendship tested by duty responds to that context. Engage with at least one secondary perspective (a critic, historian or the author's own statements), integrate quotations smoothly, and cite in MLA style.

College Sophomore (1250 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Read After Twenty Years alongside the conventions of its genre and period. Argue how the story's handling of friendship tested by duty follows or bends those conventions, using the irony as evidence, and test your reading against one published critic. Document two secondary sources in MLA.

College Junior (1500 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Apply a named critical approach (for example formalist, historicist, feminist, psychoanalytic or ecocritical) to After Twenty Years and its treatment of friendship tested by duty. State your method, show what it reveals in the story's irony and foreshadowing, and identify where the text resists it.

College Senior (2000 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Develop a research argument that reads After Twenty Years as evidence for a larger claim about friendship tested by duty in After Twenty Years. Connect close reading of the story to the whole story, engage at least four scholarly sources, and state precisely where your reading departs from theirs (Chicago style).

Graduate / PhD (2500 words; Cambridge International: see unit standards): Develop an original argument that reads After Twenty Years as a hinge in the story's larger treatment of friendship tested by duty. Position your reading within a named critical conversation (for example formalist, historicist, psychoanalytic, feminist or postcolonial approaches), account for the textual history where relevant, and articulate the stakes of your intervention for scholarship on After Twenty Years.

SAT-style questions

1. The vicinity was one that kept early hours.

   As used in the text, what does the word “vicinity” most nearly mean?

   A. a surrounding or nearby region

   B. in an uncertain or unsure way

   C. in a gloomy, depressing way

D. in a way that commands notice or respect

2. THE policeman on the beat moved up the avenue impressively. The impressiveness was habitual and not for show, for spectators were few. The time was barely 10 o'clock at night, but chilly gusts of wind with a taste of rain in them had well nigh depeopled the streets.

Which choice best states a central concern of "After Twenty Years"?

A. Accepting one's place in nature's cycle

B. Friendship tested by duty

C. Hope created by an act of sacrifice

D. A girl's first encounter with death across the class line

SAT key: 1. A (a surrounding or nearby region); 2. B (Friendship tested by duty)

Unit test

After Twenty Years: end test · 90 minutes · 15 questions per rigor version (multiple choice, fill in the blank, short answer). The class rigor level picks the version; student auto-adjust applies.

Short-answer scoring guides

Scaffolded support and HS Freshman (2 points): correct answer in a complete sentence with a detail from the text. HS Sophomore to HS Senior (3 points): claim, one accurate quotation, one sentence of explanation. AP to College Sophomore (4 points): precise claim, two embedded quotations, commentary on word choice or structure, link to theme. College Junior to Graduate (5 points): nuanced thesis, close reading of two passages, synthesis across sections, a competing reading answered. Each item lists a sample answer; partial credit is described in the app.

Final paper

After Twenty Years: final paper (formal literary analysis). Choose one prompt.

1. Analyze how O. Henry develops loyalty and duty across After Twenty Years. Trace the idea through at least three moments (beginning, middle and end) and argue what the ending finally suggests.
2. Choose one recurring symbol, image or motif in After Twenty Years and argue how its meaning changes over the story and why that change matters to change over time.
3. Analyze a central character's choices in After Twenty Years. Argue whether the story judges that character, and how its structure or point of view shapes your answer.
4. Two readers disagree about whether After Twenty Years finally endorses or criticizes its society's view of friendship. Weigh both readings and argue for one, answering the strongest objection.

Length: Scaffolded support 500-700 words; HS Freshman 700-900 words; HS Sophomore 900-1,100 words; HS Junior 1,000-1,300 words; HS Senior 1,200-1,500 words; AP 1,300-1,600 words; College Freshman 1,500-2,000 words; College Sophomore 2,000-2,500 words; College Junior 2,500-3,000 words; College Senior 3,000-4,000 words; Graduate / PhD 4,000-6,000 words Evidence requirement: at least 4 quotations from at least two parts of the story. Quote the reading text exactly and cite the paragraph (MLA style). HS Senior and above: one scholarly or historical source; College Sophomore and above: two, cited in MLA.

Criterion	Points	Descriptor
Thesis	20	A specific, arguable claim that answers the prompt and organizes the paper.
Evidence	25	Well-chosen, accurately quoted and cited passages from across the work, meeting the evidence requirement.
Analysis	30	Explains how language, structure and literary elements create meaning; goes beyond summary.
Organization	15	Logical progression, clear topic sentences and transitions; introduction and conclusion frame the argument.
Style and conventions	10	Formal academic voice, present tense for literature, correct grammar and MLA format.

Original Liber et Libri curriculum. Quotations from the public-domain text. Vocabulary definitions are modern and contextual (curated; based on Princeton WordNet 3.0). Word histories appear only where verified: short origin notes in our own words, with the facts (language, form, meaning) checked against the Online Etymology Dictionary or Wiktionary; no dictionary text is reproduced, and unverified ones are left out. AP and Cambridge entries are our own summaries with links, not College Board or Cambridge text; ICC-WC and LeL IDs are Liber et Libri labels. Included with every curriculum purchase and with Classroom Pro.
