Author biography

Washington Irving was born in New York City on 3 April 1783, the youngest of eleven children of a merchant family, and named after George Washington. He won fame with a comic History of New York (1809) by "Diedrich Knickerbocker" and lived in England from 1815, where he published The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent. (1819–20), containing "Rip Van Winkle" and "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." He was among the first American writers admired in Europe; he later served as U.S. minister to Spain and died at Sunnyside, his home in Tarrytown, New York, on 28 November 1859.

Historical and cultural context

Set around 1790 in a Dutch settlement near Tarrytown, New York, a region full of Revolutionary War ghost stories. The Headless Horseman is said to be a Hessian soldier (a German mercenary fighting for Britain) whose head was shot off by a cannonball.

Publication and reception, then and now

Published in The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent. (part VI, 1820).

Then: Popular from the start.

Now: One of the first American ghost stories; a Halloween classic, often adapted.

Overview (spoiler-free)

Ichabod Crane, a lanky, superstitious schoolmaster from Connecticut, courts the wealthy Katrina Van Tassel, competing with the local hero Brom Bones.

Main themes

- imagination and superstition.
- greed.
- outsiders and locals.

Why it matters

It's a model of humour, suspense and ambiguous endings.

Spoilers · teacher only

Riding home from a party, Ichabod is chased by the Headless Horseman, who hurls his head; Ichabod disappears, a smashed pumpkin is found, and Brom marries Katrina, looking knowing whenever the pumpkin is mentioned.

Content note (mild fright, alcohol or drugs (mentioned)): Sensitive content: Mild fright; racist caricature of a Black character (period racist language). Preview the story, tell students in advance, and allow a pass on reading aloud. Keep discussion on how the writer uses these elements, not on graphic detail. This section mentions drinking or a drug ("…e spirits rose with eating, as some men's do with drink. He could not help, too, rolling his la…"). Treat it as period custom or plot detail; name it plainly and don't glamorize it.

In the Dutch hamlet of Sleepy Hollow, lanky, superstitious schoolmaster Ichabod Crane courts the heiress Katrina Van Tassel, partly for her father's rich farm. His rival is the strong prankster Brom Bones. After a party where ghost stories are told, Ichabod rides home and is chased by a Headless Horseman who hurls his head at him. Ichabod disappears; a shattered pumpkin is found. Brom marries Katrina and looks knowing when the tale is told.

Background: Published in 1820 in The Sketch Book, set in the Hudson Valley around 1790 near Tarrytown, New York.

Significance: A foundational American ghost story built on comic irony.

First, meaning. I read "The Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow" slowly and put it in my own words: The narrator names the valley's chief ghost: the Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow. Next, craft. I notice the repeated "H" sounds, which make the name easy to repeat like a local legend. The strongest word is "Headless": the missing head is the frightening detail people remember. Then, effect. How does the name of the ghost work on the reader and the townspeople? My answer: The name already makes the ghost a legend that everyone in the valley tells; that shared story is what Brom later uses to frighten Ichabod away.

11. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.3] What does this passage from paragraph 6 reveal about the character or situation? "Not far from this village, perhaps about two miles, there is a little valley, or rather lap of land, among high hills, which is one of the quietest places in the whole world." Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 6) accurately and quotes "quietest" and "village", saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It then states the inference in one sentence and backs it with that detail.

12. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.3] What can you infer from this line? "the yellow pumpkins lying beneath them, turning up their fair round bellies to the sun" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 43) Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: Greed. The words "the yellow pumpkins lying beneath them, turning up their fair round bellies to the sun" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 43) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself.

13. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.3] What does this passage from paragraph 50 reveal about the character or situation? "The musician was an old grey-headed negro, who had been the itinerant orchestra of the neighbourhood for more than half a century." Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 50) accurately and quotes "neighbourhood" and

"orchestra", saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It then states the inference in one sentence and backs it with that detail.

14. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.9-10.3] Claim: Irving suggests the Horseman is a prank by Brom. Explain how this evidence supports the claim: "he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31).

    Sample answer: Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins ... turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned. The words "he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops greed: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

15. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 25 shapes its tone: "She was a blooming lass of fresh eighteen; plump as a partridge; ripe and melting and rosy cheeked as one of her father's peaches, and universally famed, not merely for her beauty, but her vast expectations." Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 25) accurately and quotes "expectations" and "universally", saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

16. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · L.9-10.4] Close reading: how do the diction and syntax of "The Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 10) shape its meaning? Consider a second, competing reading.

    Sample answer: The legend. The words "The Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow" (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 10) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops greed: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina. Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins ... turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned.

17. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 13? "His head was small, and flat at top, with huge ears, large green glassy eyes, and a long snipe nose, so that it looked like a _____, perched upon his spindle neck, to tell which way the wind blew."

    A. completely

Word bank: thwarted, imbibed, preferment, tractable

    Key: thwarted

19. [fill · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Complete the quotation from paragraph 40: "Such was the _____ of Ichabod and his steed, as they shambled out of the gate of Hans Van Ripper, and it was altogether such an apparition as is seldom to be met with in broad day light." Word bank: weathercock, shrewdness, Greensburgh, appearance

    Key: appearance

20. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 14 shapes its tone: “The school-house stood in a rather lonely but pleasant situation, just at the foot of a woody hill, with a brook running close by, and a formidable birch tree growing at one end of it.” Pick two words and explain their effect.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 14) accurately and quotes “formidable” and “situation”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.
21. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 62 shapes its tone: “The night grew darker and darker; the stars seemed to sink deeper in the sky, and driving clouds occasionally had them from his sight.” Pick two words and explain their effect.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 62) accurately and quotes “occasionally” and “driving”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.
22. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Synthesis: trace how greed develops from the opening of “The Legend of Sleepy Hollow” to its ending. Use one quotation from each part.
    Sample answer: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina. The words “The Legend of Sleepy Hollow” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 10) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops greed: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina. Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins ... turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned.

25. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · RL.9-10.3] Who is Ichabod's rival?
    A. The Horseman
    B. Hans Van Ripper
    C. Brom Bones
    D. Baltus Van Tassel

    Key: C (Brom Bones)
26. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Connect this passage from paragraph 70 to the story's treatment of superstition and imagination: “Just then he saw the goblin rising in his stirrups, and in the very act of hurling his head at him.” Use one other moment from the story as well.
    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 70) accurately and quotes “stirrups” and “hurling”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to superstition and imagination and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

27. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Connect this passage from paragraph 66 to the story's treatment of superstition and imagination: “Just then the shadowy object of alarm put itself in motion, and with a scramble and a bound, stood at once in the middle of the road.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 66) accurately and quotes “scramble” and “shadowy”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to superstition and imagination and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

28. [fill · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Fill in the blank with the vocabulary word that fits: “Such was the formidable rival with whom Ichabod Crane had to contend, and, considering all things, a stouter man than he would have shrunk from the competition, and a wiser man would have _____.” Word bank: imbibed, preferment, tractable, despaired

    Key: despaired

29. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze the word choice in “he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31). Pick two words and explain what they suggest.

    Sample answer: The rival. The words “he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops greed: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

30. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 29? “Benches were built along the sides for summer use; and a great spinning wheel at one end, and a churn at the other, showed the various uses to which this _____ porch might be devoted.”

    C. discontented

    D. dilated

    Key: B (important)

31. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · L.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 56 shapes its tone: “The chief part of the stories, however, turned upon the favorite spectre of Sleepy Hollow, the headless horseman, who had been heard several times of late, patroling the country; and, it was said, tethered his horse nightly among the…” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 56) accurately and quotes “patroling” and “headless”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

32. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Connect this passage from paragraph 30 to the story's treatment of superstition and imagination: “From the moment Ichabod laid his eyes upon these regions of delight, the peace of his mind was at an end, and his only study was how to gain the affections of the peerless daughter of Van Tassel.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 30) accurately and quotes “affections” and “daughter”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to superstition and imagination and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

33. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Connect this passage from paragraph 41 to the story's treatment of superstition and imagination: “Streaming files of wild ducks began to make their appearance high in the air; the bark of the squirrel might be heard from the groves of beech and hickory nuts, and the pensive whistle of the quail at intervals from the neighbouring…” Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 41) accurately and quotes “neighbouring” and “appearance”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to superstition and imagination and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of superstition and imagination: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

34. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.3] Evaluate this claim about the story: “Irving suggests the Horseman is a prank by Brom.” Is it fully persuasive? Argue with evidence, including a passage that complicates it.
Sample answer: The claim is persuasive only in part. In support, “he had received the nick-name of Brom Bones” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 31) bears it out: Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins ... turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned. But “The Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 10) complicates it, because this detail (the legend) gives the reader a second explanation to weigh against the claim's reading. So the claim holds only once it is qualified: it explains much of the story, but it has to account for that passage too, which it does not do on its own.

35. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · L.9-10.4] Close reading: how do the diction and syntax of “the yellow pumpkins lying beneath them, turning up their fair round bellies to the sun” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 43) shape its meaning? Consider a second, competing reading.
Sample answer: Greed. The words “the yellow pumpkins lying beneath them, turning up their fair round bellies to the sun” (The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, paragraph 43) are the evidence: their wording makes this point in the text itself. This develops greed: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina. Ichabod's greed shows in images like "yellow pumpkins ... turning up their fair round bellies to the sun," and a smashed pumpkin is found where he vanished; Brom, with his "nick-name of Brom Bones," laughs when it is mentioned.

36. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · L.9-10.4] In the line “He was in fact noted for preferring vicious animals, given to all kinds of tricks, which kept the rider in constant risk of his neck, for he held a tractable well-broken horse as unworthy of a lad of spirit.”, what does “tractable” most nearly mean?

    A. without purpose

    B. easy to manage or control

    C. take in, also metaphorically

    D. promotion to a better position, especially in the church

    Key: B (easy to manage or control)

37. [mc · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.9-10.3] Which literary element does this describe in “The Legend of Sleepy Hollow”? Ichabod is a comic figure of greed and appetite.

Writing prompts (eleven rigor levels)

Scaffolded support (250 words; AP: see unit standards): Supported track (work from the passage your teacher selects). In “The Legend of Sleepy Hollow,” how does Irving show superstition used against a credulous man? Write a paragraph that states your claim, quotes two details from the passage, and explains how each detail supports your idea. Use the setting you noticed as one piece of evidence.

HS Freshman (350 words; AP: see unit standards): In The Legend of Sleepy Hollow, how does Irving develop the idea of superstition used against a credulous man? State a clear claim, support it with two or three quotations, and explain how the setting in the story helps build that idea.

HS Sophomore (450 words; AP: see unit standards): Analyze how The Legend of Sleepy Hollow develops the idea of superstition used against a credulous man. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of setting and characterization shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.

HS Junior (550 words; AP: see unit standards): Analyze how the structure of The Legend of Sleepy Hollow (where it begins, turns and ends) and its setting shape the reader's understanding of superstition used against a credulous man. Identify one place where the text leaves matters uncertain and explain how that uncertainty adds to its meaning.

HS Senior (600 words; AP: see unit standards): Two readers disagree about what The Legend of Sleepy Hollow suggests about superstition used against a credulous man. Lay out two plausible interpretations, weigh the evidence for each (including the story's setting and characterization), and argue for the stronger one in a sustained, well-organized essay.

AP (650 words; AP: AP-LIT.SET, AP-LIT.LAN): Write a literary argument in which you analyze how Washington Irving uses setting in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow to complicate the reader's understanding of superstition used against a credulous man. Develop a defensible thesis, select evidence purposefully, and explain how specific choices of diction and syntax create meaning.

College Freshman (1000 words; AP: see unit standards): Situate The Legend of Sleepy Hollow within its historical and literary context and argue how the story's treatment of superstition used against a credulous man responds to that context. Engage with at least one secondary perspective (a critic, historian or the author's own statements), integrate quotations smoothly, and cite in MLA style.

College Sophomore (1250 words; AP: see unit standards): Read The Legend of Sleepy Hollow alongside the conventions of its genre and period. Argue how the story's handling of superstition used against a credulous man follows or bends those conventions, using the setting as evidence, and test your reading against one published critic. Document two secondary sources in MLA.

College Junior (1500 words; AP: see unit standards): Apply a named critical approach (for example formalist, historicist, feminist, psychoanalytic or ecocritical) to The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and its treatment of superstition used against a credulous man. State your method, show what it reveals in the story's setting and characterization, and identify where the text resists it.

College Senior (2000 words; AP: see unit standards): Develop a research argument that reads The Legend of Sleepy Hollow as evidence for a larger claim about superstition used against a credulous man in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. Connect close reading of the story to the whole story, engage at least four scholarly sources, and state precisely where your reading departs from theirs (Chicago style).

Graduate / PhD (2500 words; AP: see unit standards): Develop an original argument that reads The Legend of Sleepy Hollow as a hinge in the story's larger treatment of superstition used against a credulous man. Position your reading within a named critical conversation (for example formalist, historicist, psychoanalytic, feminist or postcolonial approaches), account for the textual history where relevant, and articulate the stakes of your intervention for scholarship on The Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

SAT-style questions

1. It is remarkable that the visionary propensity I have mentioned, is not confined to the native inhabitants of the valley, but is unconsciously imbibed by every one who resides there for a time.

22. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 47 shapes its tone: “Fain would I pause to dwell upon the world of charms that burst upon the enraptured gaze of my hero, as he entered the state parlor of Van Tassel's mansion.” Pick two words and explain their effect.
Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 47) accurately and quotes “enraptured” and “Tassel's”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of greed and courtship: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

23. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.2] Connect this passage from paragraph 73 to the story's treatment of rural community: “The mysterious event caused much speculation at the Church on the following Sunday.” Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 73) accurately and quotes “speculation” and “mysterious”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to rural community and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of rural community: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

24. [short · inference · DOK 2 · RL.9-10.3] What does this passage from paragraph 19 reveal about the character or situation? “Our man of letters, therefore, was peculiarly happy in the smiles of all the country damsels.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 19) accurately and quotes “peculiarly” and “therefore”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It then states the inference in one sentence and backs it with that detail.

25. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.9-10.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 53 shapes its tone: “The British and American line had run near it during the war; it had therefore been the scene of marauding, and infested with refugees, cow boys, and all kinds of border chivalry.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 53) accurately and quotes “marauding” and “therefore”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of greed and courtship: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

26. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.2] Connect this passage from paragraph 48 to the story's treatment of rural community: “He was a kind and thankful toad, whose heart dilated in proportion as his skin was filled with good cheer; and whose spirits rose with eating, as some men's do with drink.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 48) accurately and quotes “proportion” and “thankful”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to rural community and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of rural community: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

27. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.9-10.2] Connect this passage from paragraph 63 to the story's treatment of greed and courtship: “As Ichabod approached this fearful tree, he began to whistle: he thought his whistle was answered: it was but a blast sweeping sharply through the dry branches.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 63) accurately and quotes “approached” and “branches”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to greed and courtship and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of greed and courtship: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

28. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.11-12.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 39 shapes its tone: “The animal he bestrode was a broken-down plough horse, that had outlived almost everything but his viciousness.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 39) accurately and quotes “viciousness” and “everything”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. The unit's reading of rural community: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

29. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · RL.11-12.2] Connect this passage from paragraph 57 to the story's treatment of greed and courtship: “Such was one of the favorite haunts of the headless horseman, and the place where he was most frequently encountered.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 57) accurately and quotes “encountered” and “frequently”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It links the passage to greed and courtship and to one other named moment in the story. The unit's reading of greed and courtship: Ichabod wants the farm more than Katrina.

30. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · RL.11-12.4] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 29 shapes its tone: “It was one of those spacious farm-houses, with high-ridged, but lowly-sloping roofs, built in the style handed down from the first Dutch settlers.” Pick two words and explain their effect.
Sample answer: A model answer paraphrases the passage (paragraph 29) accurately and quotes “settlers” and “spacious”, saying what those words show about the speaker or situation at that moment. It explains the tone those words create (for example, whether they make the moment tense, ironic or tender) and why the author chose them. Final paper

The Legend of Sleepy Hollow: final paper (formal literary analysis). Choose one prompt.

1. Analyze how Washington Irving develops superstition and imagination across The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. Trace the idea through at least three moments (beginning, middle and end) and argue what the ending finally suggests.
2. Choose one recurring symbol, image or motif in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and argue how its meaning changes over the story and why that change matters to greed and courtship.
3. Analyze a central character's choices in The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. Argue whether the story judges that character, and how its structure or point of view shapes your answer.
4. Two readers disagree about whether The Legend of Sleepy Hollow finally endorses or criticizes its society's view of rural community. Weigh both readings and argue for one, answering the strongest objection.

Length: Scaffolded support 500-700 words; HS Freshman 700-900 words; HS Sophomore 900-1,100 words; HS Junior 1,000-1,300 words; HS Senior 1,200-1,500 words; AP 1,300-1,600 words; College Freshman 1,500-2,000 words; College Sophomore 2,000-2,500 words; College Junior 2,500-3,000 words; College Senior 3,000-4,000 words; Graduate / PhD 4,000-6,000 words Evidence requirement: at least 4 quotations from at least two parts of the story. Quote the reading text exactly and cite the paragraph (MLA style). HS Senior and above: one scholarly or historical source; College Sophomore and above: two, cited in MLA.

Criterion	Points	Descriptor
Thesis	20	A specific, arguable claim that answers the prompt and organizes the paper.
Evidence	25	Well-chosen, accurately quoted and cited passages from across the work, meeting the evidence requirement.
Analysis	30	Explains how language, structure and literary elements create meaning; goes beyond summary.
Organization	15	Logical progression, clear topic sentences and transitions; introduction and conclusion frame the argument.
Style and conventions	10	Formal academic voice, present tense for literature, correct grammar and MLA format.
