Author biography

Rudyard Kipling was born in Bombay (Mumbai), India, on 30 December 1865, was sent to England for schooling at five, and returned to India at sixteen as a journalist. His stories and poems of British India made him famous; The Jungle Book (1894), which includes "Rikki-Tikki-Tavi," was written while he lived in Vermont. In 1907 he became the first English-language writer to win the Nobel Prize in Literature. His work is admired for its craft and criticized for its celebration of empire. He died in London on 18 January 1936.

Historical and cultural context

Set in a British bungalow in colonial India (the Raj), with an English family as the mongoose's protected household. Kipling grew up partly in India.

Publication and reception, then and now

First published in The Jungle Book (1894), possibly earlier in magazines.

Then: Popular immediately.

Now: A beloved animal adventure, also discussed critically for its colonial viewpoint.

Overview (spoiler-free)

A young mongoose is rescued by an English family and guards their garden against two cobras, Nag and Nagaina.

Main themes

- courage.
- loyalty and protection.
- good versus evil.

Why it matters

Students learn about conflict and characterization, and can discuss perspective.

Spoilers · teacher only

Rikki kills Nag in the bathroom, destroys the eggs and follows Nagaina into her hole, killing her.

First, meaning. I read "Turn for turn and twist for twist —" slowly and put it in my own words: The tailorbird's song describes the fight with Nag as turn for turn and twist for twist. Next, craft. I notice the repeated paired phrases, which copy the back-and-forth movement of the fight itself. The strongest word is "twist": it captures the snake's coiling and the speed of the struggle. Then, effect. What does this line from the song about the fight suggest? My answer: Kipling makes the battle feel fast and evenly matched; Rikki wins by matching the cobra move for move, which is why the garden sings his praise.

Content note (animal violence, colonial setting, alcohol or drugs (mentioned)): Sensitive content: Animal violence; colonial setting. Preview the story, tell students in advance, and allow a pass on reading aloud. Keep discussion on how the writer uses these elements, not on graphic detail. This section mentions drinking or a drug ("… at night, at dinner, walking to and fro among the wine-glasses on the table, he could have stu…"). Treat it as period custom or plot detail; name it plainly and don't glamorize it.
Student preview: Heads-up: this story includes animal violence; colonial setting.
Suggested language: "Why does the writer include this, and what does it make us notice?"

A young mongoose, washed from his burrow by a flood, is adopted by an English family in a bungalow in India. He befriends Darzee the tailorbird and learns of the cobras Nag and Nagaina. He kills the snake Karait, then Nag in the bathroom, and destroys Nagaina's eggs. Nagaina threatens the boy Teddy; Rikki lures her away, follows her into her hole and kills her.

Background: Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective.

Significance: A widely taught middle-school story for conflict, characterization and personification.

Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective. A widely taught middle-school story for conflict, characterization and personification. Personification: The animals speak, scheme and grieve (Darzee the tailorbird sings victory songs; Nagaina plots revenge), so the garden becomes a battlefield with characters. Conflict: Rikki against the cobras; each battle (Karait, Nag, the eggs, Nagaina) raises the stakes. Characterization: Rikki is curious, brave and loyal; Nagaina is cunning; Darzee is foolish but loyal. Watch for the garden: an Eden with serpents in it, which Rikki defends.

[DOK 2 · followUp · wait 5 s · AP-LIT.STR] Look for: A young mongoose, washed from his burrow by a flood, is adopted by an English family in a bungalow in India. He befriends Darzee the tailorbird and learns of the cobras Nag and Nagaina. He kills the snake Karait, then Nag in the bathroom, and destroys Nagaina's eggs. Nagaina threatens the boy…
6. As the opening story, what does “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi” set up that the rest of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi will need? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · AP-LIT.STR] Look for: A causal or structural link between this and the previous story.
   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Nag, come up and dance with death” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4): Battle. Theme link: he fights a much larger enemy. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
7. What can we infer about a character's motives from what they say and do here, as opposed to what they claim? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · AP-LIT.CHR] Look for: An inference about motive supported by a quoted line.
   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “That's his way of making friends” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21): The family's acceptance. On characterization: Rikki is curious, brave and loyal; Nagaina is cunning; Darzee is foolish but loyal. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
8. The bell-ringer asked: “What makes someone brave?” Now that we have read closely, how would you revise your first answer, and which line changed your mind? [DOK 2 · thinkPairShare · wait 5 s · AP-LIT.LAN] Look for: A revised answer anchored in the text.
9. Where does personification appear, and how does it connect this story to the larger concern with courage? [DOK 3 · followUp · wait 8 s · AP-LIT.FIG] Look for: Look for how this element shapes meaning.
   Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Run and find out” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20): His nature. On personification: The animals speak, scheme and grieve (Darzee the tailorbird sings victory songs; Nagaina plots revenge), so the garden becomes a battlefield with characters. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.
10. Background: Published in The Jungle Book (1894). Kipling, born in Bombay, wrote from within British colonial India; teachers may discuss that perspective. How does knowing this change the way you read one moment in the story? [DOK 3 · thinkPairShare · wait 8 s · AP-LIT.SET] Look for: A specific moment reread in light of the context.
    Answer guidance: A defensible line of argument: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. Useful evidence: “Nag, come up and dance with death” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4): Battle. Theme link: he fights a much larger enemy. Credit any position that is supported by quotation and reasoning; push one-sided answers to address the strongest counterpoint.

Evaluative / synthesis / creative

1. A critic might argue: “A widely taught middle-school story for conflict, characterization and personification.” How far do you agree? Take a stand and defend it with two lines from the story. [DOK 3 · fourCorners · wait 8 s · AP-LIT.LAN] Look for: A defended position with evidence and one counterpoint.

7. [fill · recall · DOK 1] Complete the quotation from paragraph 44: “It looks very funny, but it is so _____ balanced a gait that you can fly off from it at any angle you please; and in dealing with snakes this is an advantage.” Word bank: perfectly, something, sideways, yesterday

   Key: perfectly

8. [mc · recall · DOK 1] How does Rikki-tikki come to the family?

   A. He walks in from the jungle
   B. He is bought at a market
   C. He is a gift

D. A flood washes him to their garden

Key: D (A flood washes him to their garden)

9. [fill · recall · DOK 1] Complete the quotation from Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21: “That's his way of making _____”

   Key: friends

10. [fill · recall · DOK 1] Fill in the blank with the vocabulary word that fits: “Now,’ said the big man (he was an Englishman who had just moved into the bungalow); ‘don't _____ him, and we'll see what he'll do.” Word bank: scuttled, frighten, cantonment, bungalow

    Key: frighten

11. [short · inference · DOK 2] What can you infer from this line? “Nag, come up and dance with death” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4) Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: Battle. The evidence is “Nag, come up and dance with death” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4). This develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy.

12. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 18 reveal about the character or situation? “They took him into the house, and a big man picked him up between his finger and thumb and said he was not dead but half choked; so they wrapped him in cotton-wool, and warmed him, and he opened his eyes and sneezed.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 18) shows the situation turning on courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The words “between” and “sneezed” are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

13. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 50 reveal about the character or situation? “And how am I to be sure that Nag won't mistake me for you some dark night?” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 50) shows the situation turning on courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The words “mistake” are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

14. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 64 shapes its tone: “Nag coiled himself up, raised his head, and looked into the bath-room in the dark, and Rikki could see his eyes glitter.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “glitter” and “himself” (paragraph 64) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

15. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 60 shapes its tone: “Then come out and tell me, and we will hunt for Rikki-tikki together.’” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “together” (paragraph 60) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

16. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 73 to the story's treatment of courage: “The big man brought the bang-stick and Nag fell in two pieces!” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 73) develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words “brought” and “pieces” carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in “You're safe enough in your nest there, but it's war for me down here." (paragraph 76), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating courage as central.

17. [mc · recall · DOK 1] What are the cobras' names?

    A. Teddy and Rikki

    B. Darzee and Chuchundra

    C. Karait and Chua

    D. Nag and Nagaina

    Key: D (Nag and Nagaina)

18. [fill · recall · DOK 1] Complete the quotation from paragraph 40: "He jumped up in the air as high as he could go, and just under him _____ by the head of Nagaina, Nag's wicked wife." Word bank: whizzed, playing, between, sideways

    Key: whizzed

19. [mc · recall · DOK 1] Who is Darzee?

    A. A muskrat

    B. A tailorbird

    C. The gardener

    D. A snake

    Key: B (A tailorbird)

20. [short · inference · DOK 2] What can you infer from this line? "Run and find out" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20) Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: His nature. The evidence is "Run and find out" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20). This develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy.

21. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 35 shapes its tone: "The great god Brahm put his mark upon all our people when the first cobra spread his hood to keep the sun off Brahm as he slept." Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words "people" and "spread" (paragraph 35) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

22. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 40 shapes its tone: "She had crept up behind him as he was talking, to make an end of him; and he heard her savage hiss as the stroke missed." Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words "talking" and "stroke" (paragraph 40) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

23. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Close reading: how do the diction and syntax of "Nag, come up and dance with death" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4) shape its meaning? Consider a second, competing reading.

    Sample answer: Battle. The evidence is "Nag, come up and dance with death" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 4). This develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The words "death" and "dance" carry that meaning: they are the charged choices in the line, and changing either would soften the effect. The mongoose motto is "Run and find out," and that drive leads him to the cobras and victory.

24. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 42 to the story's treatment of courage: "It gave him confidence in himself, and when Teddy came running down the path, Rikki-tikki was ready to be petted." Use one other moment from the story as well.

Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 42) develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "confidence" and "himself" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "I am death!' It was Karait, the dusty brown snakeling that lies for choice on the dusty earth; and his bite is as…" (paragraph 43), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating courage as central.

25. [fill · recall · DOK 1 · AP: AP-LIT.FIG] Fill in the blank with the vocabulary word that fits: "When he revived, he was lying in the hot sun on the middle of a garden path, very _____ indeed, and a small boy was saying: 'Here's a dead mongoose." Word bank: draggled, scuttled, cantonment, bungalow

    Key: draggled

26. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 44 to the story's treatment of courage: "But Rikki did not know: his eyes were all red, and he rocked back and forth, looking for a good place to hold." Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 44) develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "looking" and "rocked" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "Our mongoose is killing a snake'; and Rikki-tikki heard a scream from Teddy's mother." (paragraph 45), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating courage as central.

27. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 67 to the story's treatment of courage: "After an hour he began to move, muscle by muscle, toward the jar." Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 67) develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "muscle" and "toward" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "It must be the head,' he said at last; 'the head above the hood; and, when I am once there, I must not let go." (paragraph 68), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating courage as central.

28. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.FIG] Close reading: how do the diction and syntax of "Run and find out" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20) shape its meaning? Consider a second, competing reading.

    Sample answer: His nature. The evidence is "Run and find out" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20). This develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The words "find" and "and" carry that meaning: they are the charged choices in the line, and changing either would soften the effect. The mongoose motto is "Run and find out," and that drive leads him to the cobras and victory.

29. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Synthesis: trace how courage develops from the opening of "Rikki-Tikki-Tavi" to its ending. Use one quotation from each part.

    Sample answer: Near the start, "Run and find out" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20) — His nature. Later, "That's his way of making friends" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21) — The family's acceptance. He fights a much larger enemy.

30. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · AP: AP-LIT.FIG] Analyze the word choice in "That's his way of making friends" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21). Pick two words and explain what they suggest.

    Sample answer: The family's acceptance. The evidence is "That's his way of making friends" (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 21). This develops courage: he fights a much larger enemy. The words "friends" and "making" carry that meaning: they are the charged choices in the line, and changing either would soften the effect.

Writing prompts (eleven rigor levels)

Scaffolded support (250 words; AP: see unit standards): Supported track (work from the passage your teacher selects). In “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi,” how does Kipling show courage in defense of home? Write a paragraph that states your claim, quotes two details from the passage, and explains how each detail supports your idea. Use the characterization you noticed as one piece of evidence.

HS Freshman (350 words; AP: see unit standards): In Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, how does Kipling develop the idea of courage in defense of home? State a clear claim, support it with two or three quotations, and explain how the characterization in the story helps build that idea.

HS Sophomore (450 words; AP: see unit standards): Analyze how Rikki-Tikki-Tavi develops the idea of courage in defense of home. Make a precise claim, support it with at least three pieces of textual evidence, and explain how the author's use of characterization and conflict shapes that idea. Address one possible counterclaim.

HS Junior (550 words; AP: see unit standards): Analyze how the structure of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (where it begins, turns and ends) and its characterization shape the reader's understanding of courage in defense of home. Identify one place where the text leaves matters uncertain and explain how that uncertainty adds to its meaning.

HS Senior (600 words; AP: see unit standards): Two readers disagree about what Rikki-Tikki-Tavi suggests about courage in defense of home. Lay out two plausible interpretations, weigh the evidence for each (including the story's characterization and conflict), and argue for the stronger one in a sustained, well-organized essay.

AP (650 words; AP: AP-LIT.CHR, AP-LIT.LAN): Write a literary argument in which you analyze how Rudyard Kipling uses characterization in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi to complicate the reader's understanding of courage in defense of home. Develop a defensible thesis, select evidence purposefully, and explain how specific choices of diction and syntax create meaning.

College Freshman (1000 words; AP: see unit standards): Situate Rikki-Tikki-Tavi within its historical and literary context and argue how the story's treatment of courage in defense of home responds to that context. Engage with at least one secondary perspective (a critic, historian or the author's own statements), integrate quotations smoothly, and cite in MLA style.

College Sophomore (1250 words; AP: see unit standards): Read Rikki-Tikki-Tavi alongside the conventions of its genre and period. Argue how the story's handling of courage in defense of home follows or bends those conventions, using the characterization as evidence, and test your reading against one published critic. Document two secondary sources in MLA.

College Junior (1500 words; AP: see unit standards): Apply a named critical approach (for example formalist, historicist, feminist, psychoanalytic or ecocritical) to Rikki-Tikki-Tavi and its treatment of courage in defense of home. State your method, show what it reveals in the story's characterization and conflict, and identify where the text resists it.

College Senior (2000 words; AP: see unit standards): Develop a research argument that reads Rikki-Tikki-Tavi as evidence for a larger claim about courage in defense of home in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Connect close reading of the story to the whole story, engage at least four scholarly sources, and state precisely where your reading departs from theirs (Chicago style).

Graduate / PhD (2500 words; AP: see unit standards): Develop an original argument that reads Rikki-Tikki-Tavi as a hinge in the story's larger treatment of courage in defense of home. Position your reading within a named critical conversation (for example formalist, historicist, psychoanalytic, feminist or postcolonial approaches), account for the textual history where relevant, and articulate the stakes of your intervention for scholarship on Rikki-Tikki-Tavi.

SAT-style questions

1. THIS is the story of the great war that Rikki-tikki-tavi fought single-handed, through the bath-rooms of the big bungalow in Segowlee cantonment.

   As used in the text, what does the word “bungalow” most nearly mean?

   A. a one-story house, originally in India, with a wide veranda

   B. crouch or curl up

   C. cause fear in

   D. wet, dirty and bedraggled

2. THIS is the story of the great war that Rikki-tikki-tavi fought single-handed, through the bath-rooms of the big bungalow in Segowlee cantonment. Darzee, the tailor-bird, helped him, and Chuchundra, the muskrat, who never comes out into the middle of the floor, but always creeps round by the wall, gave him advice; but Rikki-tikki did the real fighting.

   Which choice best states a central concern of “Rikki-Tikki-Tavi”?

   A. A boy's romantic quest ending in disillusion

   B. Wishes that defy fate

   C. Courage in defense of home

   D. A choice the reader must make

SAT key: 1. A (a one-story house, originally in India, with a wide veranda); 2. C (Courage in defense of home)

Short-answer scoring guides

Scaffolded support and HS Freshman (2 points): correct answer in a complete sentence with a detail from the text. HS Sophomore to HS Senior (3 points): claim, one accurate quotation, one sentence of explanation. AP to College Sophomore (4 points): precise claim, two embedded quotations, commentary on word choice or structure, link to theme. College Junior to Graduate (5 points): nuanced thesis, close reading of two passages, synthesis across sections, a competing reading answered. Each item lists a sample answer; partial credit is described in the app.

Unit test: item bank (all eleven rigor versions)

1. [mc · recall · DOK 1] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 23? “Rikki-tikki looked down _____ the boy's collar and neck, snuffed at his ear, and climbed down to the floor, where he sat rubbing his nose.”

   Key: C (between)

2. [fill · recall · DOK 1] Complete the quotation from paragraph 30: “They had made a _____ nest by pulling two big leaves together and stitching them up the edges with fibers, and had filled the hollow with cotton and downy fluff.” Word bank: whizzed, something, beautiful, between

   Key: beautiful

3. [mc · recall · DOK 1] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 37? “He knew that _____ in the garden meant death sooner or later for him and his family; but he wanted to get Rikki-tikki off his guard.”

   A. mongooses
   B. beautiful
   C. nobody
   D. yesterday

   Key: A (mongooses)

4. [mc · recall · DOK 1] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 40? “He came down almost across her back, and if he had been an old _____ he would have known that then was the time to break her back with one bite; but he was afraid of the terrible lashing return-stroke of the cobra.”

   A. mongoose
   C. beautiful

   Key: A (mongoose)

5. [mc · recall · DOK 1] Which word completes this sentence from paragraph 44? “Rikki jumped _____ and tried to run in, but the wicked little dusty gray head lashed within a fraction of his shoulder, and he had to jump over the body, and the head followed his heels close.”

    Key: A (nobody)

11. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 37 reveal about the character or situation? “So he dropped his head a little, and put it on one side.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 37) shows the situation turning on nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The words “dropped” and “little” are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

12. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 68 reveal about the character or situation? “It must be the head,’ he said at last; ‘the head above the hood; and, when I am once there, I must not let go.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 68) shows the situation turning on protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The words its wording are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

13. [mc · inference · DOK 2] Which of these passages comes earliest in the story?

    A. “Rikki-tikki liked it immensely, and when it was finished he went out into the veranda and sat in the sunshine and fluffed up his fur to…”

    B. “Rikki-tikki looked down between the boy's collar and neck, snuffed at his ear, and climbed down to the floor, where he sat rubbing his nose.”

    C. “He was a mongoose, rather like a little cat in his fur and his tail, but quite like a weasel in his head and his habits.”

    D. “They took him into the house, and a big man picked him up between his finger and thumb and said he was not dead but half choked; so they…”

    Key: C (“He was a mongoose, rather like a little cat in his fur and his tail, but quite like a weasel in his head and his habits.”)

14. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 64 reveal about the character or situation? “Rikki-tikki tingled all over with rage and hatred at this, and then Nag's head came through the sluice, and his five feet of cold body followed it.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 64) shows the situation turning on nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The words “followed” and “through” are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

15. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 44 shapes its tone: “Rikki-tikki's eyes grew red again, and he danced up to Karait with the peculiar rocking, swaying motion that he had inherited from his family.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “inherited” and “peculiar” (paragraph 44) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

16. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 76 shapes its tone: “You're safe enough in your nest there, but it's war for me down here.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “enough” (paragraph 76) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

17. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 84 to the story's treatment of nature and instinct: “I must get to the melon-bed, and if I went there now she'd see me.’” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 84) develops nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words its wording carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in “They took him into the house, and a big man picked him up between his finger and thumb and said he was not dead but…” (paragraph 18), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating nature and instinct as central.

18. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 45 shapes its tone: “Our mongoose is killing a snake’; and Rikki-tikki heard a scream from Teddy's mother.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “mongoose” and “killing” (paragraph 45) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

19. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 56 shapes its tone: “Chuchundra sat down and cried till the tears rolled off his whiskers.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

Sample answer: The words “whiskers” and “rolled” (paragraph 56) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

20. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 66 to the story's treatment of protecting home: “He may have that stick still, but when he comes in to bathe in the morning he will not have a stick.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 66) develops protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words “morning” carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in “There was no answer from outside, so Rikki-tikki knew Nagaina had gone away.” (paragraph 67), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating protecting home as central.

21. [short · inference · DOK 2] What does this passage from paragraph 43 reveal about the character or situation? “I am death!' It was Karait, the dusty brown snakeling that lies for choice on the dusty earth; and his bite is as dangerous as the cobra's.” Answer in two or three sentences with one detail.

    Sample answer: The passage (paragraph 43) shows the situation turning on protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The words “snakeling” and “dangerous” are the proof, because they show how the moment looks to the people in it. They suggest more than the narrator states outright.

22. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 42 shapes its tone: “The victory is only a matter of quickness of eye and quickness of foot,—snake's blow against mongoose's jump,—and as no eye can follow the motion of a snake's head when it strikes, that makes things much more wonderful than any magic herb.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “mongoose's” and “wonderful” (paragraph 42) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

23. [short · analysis · DOK 3] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 67 shapes its tone: “There was no answer from outside, so Rikki-tikki knew Nagaina had gone away.” Pick two words and explain their effect.

    Sample answer: The words “outside” and “answer” (paragraph 67) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

24. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 46 to the story's treatment of nature and instinct: “Rikki-Tikki was rather amused at all the fuss, which, of course, he did not understand.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 46) develops nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words “understand” and “amused” carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in “And how am I to be sure that Nag won't mistake me for you some dark night?” (paragraph 50), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating nature and instinct as central.

25. [short · synthesis · DOK 4] Connect this passage from paragraph 40 to the story's treatment of protecting home: “He bit, indeed, but did not bite long enough, and he jumped clear of the whisking tail, leaving Nagaina torn and angry.” Use one other moment from the story as well.

    Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 40) develops protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words “whisking” and “leaving” carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in “The victory is only a matter of quickness of eye and quickness of foot,—snake's blow against mongoose's jump,—and as no…" (paragraph 42), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating protecting home as central.

26. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · AP: AP-LIT.FIG] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 71 shapes its tone: "Without waiting for breakfast, Rikki-tikki ran to the thorn-bush where Darzee was singing a song of triumph at the top of his voice." Pick two words and explain their effect.
Sample answer: The words "breakfast" and "waiting" (paragraph 71) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

27. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 30 to the story's treatment of nature and instinct: "The nest swayed to and fro, as they sat on the rim and cried." Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 30) develops nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "swayed" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "The great god Brahm put his mark upon all our people when the first cobra spread his hood to keep the sun off Brahm as…" (paragraph 35), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating nature and instinct as central.

28. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 59 to the story's treatment of nature and instinct: "He stole off to Teddy's bath-room, but there was nothing there, and then to Teddy's mother's bath-room." Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 59) develops nature and instinct: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "mother's" and "nothing" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "Then come out and tell me, and we will hunt for Rikki-tikki together.'" (paragraph 60), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating nature and instinct as central.

29. [short · analysis · DOK 3 · AP: AP-LIT.FIG] Analyze how the word choice in this passage from paragraph 26 shapes its tone: "Rikki-tikki liked it immensely, and when it was finished he went out into the veranda and sat in the sunshine and fluffed up his fur to make it dry to the roots." Pick two words and explain their effect.
Sample answer: The words "immensely" and "finished" (paragraph 26) make the tone heavy and deliberate rather than neutral. That weight points the reader to protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. The author chooses them so the moment feels significant instead of passing.

30. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 62 to the story's treatment of protecting home: "So long as the bungalow is empty, we are king and queen of the garden; and remember that as soon as our eggs in the melon-bed hatch (as they may to-morrow), our children will need room and quiet.'" Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 62) develops protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "bungalow" and "remember" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "Rikki-tikki tingled all over with rage and hatred at this, and then Nag's head came through the sluice, and his five…" (paragraph 64), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating protecting home as central.

31. [short · synthesis · DOK 4 · AP: AP-LIT.LAN] Connect this passage from paragraph 37 to the story's treatment of protecting home: "Nag was thinking to himself, and watching the least little movement in the grass behind Rikki-tikki." Use one other moment from the story as well.
Sample answer: This passage (paragraph 37) develops protecting home: he fights a much larger enemy. Its words "watching" and "movement" carry that idea into this moment. The same concern returns in "So he dropped his head a little, and put it on one side." (paragraph 37), so the two passages read as a pattern, not a single moment. Together they show the story treating protecting home as central.

32. [mc · recall · DOK 1 · Program outcome: LeL-C2-LIT-1] In the line "Darzee and his wife only cowered down in the nest without answering, for from the thick grass at the foot of the bush there came a low hiss—a horrid cold sound that made Rikki-tikki jump back two clear feet.", what does "cowered" most nearly mean?

    A. a one-story house, originally in India, with a wide veranda

    B. ran with short quick steps

    C. crouch or curl up

    D. a permanent military station in British India

    Key: C (crouch or curl up)

Final paper

Rikki-Tikki-Tavi: final paper (formal literary analysis). Choose one prompt.

1. Analyze how Rudyard Kipling develops courage across Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Trace the idea through at least three moments (beginning, middle and end) and argue what the ending finally suggests.
2. Choose one recurring symbol, image or motif in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi and argue how its meaning changes over the story and why that change matters to protecting home.
3. Analyze a central character's choices in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Argue whether the story judges that character, and how its structure or point of view shapes your answer.
4. Two readers disagree about whether Rikki-Tikki-Tavi finally endorses or criticizes its society's view of nature and instinct. Weigh both readings and argue for one, answering the strongest objection.

Length: Scaffolded support 500-700 words; HS Freshman 700-900 words; HS Sophomore 900-1,100 words; HS Junior 1,000-1,300 words; HS Senior 1,200-1,500 words; AP 1,300-1,600 words; College Freshman 1,500-2,000 words; College Sophomore 2,000-2,500 words; College Junior 2,500-3,000 words; College Senior 3,000-4,000 words; Graduate / PhD 4,000-6,000 words Evidence requirement: at least 4 quotations from at least two parts of the story. Quote the reading text exactly and cite the paragraph (MLA style). HS Senior and above: one scholarly or historical source; College Sophomore and above: two, cited in MLA.

Criterion	Points	Descriptor	Exemplary	Proficient	Developing	Beginning
Thesis	20	A specific, arguable claim that answers the prompt and organizes the paper.	Specific, arguable and precise; it organizes every section.	Clear and arguable, but broad in places.	States a topic or a summary more than an argument.	Missing, or restates the prompt.
Evidence	25	Well-chosen, accurately quoted and cited passages from across the work, meeting the evidence requirement.	Accurate, well-chosen quotations from across the work, all cited; meets the requirement.	Accurate and cited, but clustered in one part of the work.	Too few quotations, or some inaccurate or uncited.	Little or no quoted evidence.
Analysis	30	Explains how language, structure and literary elements create meaning; goes beyond summary.	Explains how specific words, structure and devices create meaning; weighs a competing reading.	Explains the evidence, with some close reading.	Mostly summary; the link to the claim is asserted, not shown.	Summary only.
Organization	15

		Logical progression, clear topic sentences and transitions; introduction and conclusion frame the argument.	Each paragraph advances the argument; transitions show logic.	Logical order with minor jumps.	Order is loose; paragraphs repeat or drift.	No discernible structure.
Style and conventions	10	Formal academic voice, present tense for literature, correct grammar and MLA format.	Formal, precise, present tense; MLA format; virtually error-free.	Formal with a few errors that do not obscure meaning.	Informal or error-prone in ways that distract.	Errors obscure meaning.

Exemplar paragraph: Rikki's curiosity makes him a hero. The text makes this visible when it says “Run and find out” (Rikki-Tikki-Tavi, paragraph 20). The mongoose motto is "Run and find out," and that drive leads him to the cobras and victory. A full paper would carry this reading through the beginning, middle and end, and answer the strongest competing reading.

Essay assignments

Essay: Courage

Scaffolded support (600 words; AP: see unit standards): Supported track: write a five-paragraph essay explaining what Rikki-Tikki-Tavi teaches about courage. Use at least three quotations from passages your teacher selects from different parts of the book.

HS Freshman (800 words; AP: see unit standards): Write a multi-paragraph essay explaining how Rudyard Kipling develops courage in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Use evidence from the beginning, middle and end of the book.

HS Sophomore (1000 words; AP: see unit standards): Write an argumentative essay analyzing how Rudyard Kipling develops courage across Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Trace the idea through at least three parts of the story and address a counterclaim.

HS Junior (1100 words; AP: see unit standards): Write an analytical essay on how the structure of Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (its order, turns and ending) shapes the meaning of courage. Discuss at least one place where the book leaves the question open.

HS Senior (1200 words; AP: see unit standards): Write a sustained argument comparing two interpretations of courage in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi. Weigh the evidence for each and defend the stronger reading in a mature, well-organized essay.

AP (1300 words; AP: AP-LIT.LAN): Write a literary argument: develop a defensible thesis about how Rudyard Kipling's choices in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi (a recurring element, structure and narration) shape a complex understanding of courage, weigh at least one competing reading, and sustain commentary on well-chosen evidence. Do not merely summarize.

College Freshman (1600 words; AP: see unit standards): Write a researched essay (4–6 pages) that places Rikki-Tikki-Tavi's treatment of courage in its historical context, using at least two scholarly sources.

College Sophomore (2200 words; AP: see unit standards): Write a contextual essay (6–8 pages) on courage in Rikki-Tikki-Tavi that reads the story against its genre and period and engages two published critics. At this level students write ONE of the unit's essays (choose one theme), not all five.
